

Rules of the DBF Lynx Bio Challenge contest

The Delta Birding Festival (DBF) organizes the online question contest (Quiz) DBF Lynx Bio Challenge with the sponsorship of Lynx.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE

1. The Quiz is available at this link: <https://woobox.com/9wb8zq>. To participate, you must answer the 10 questions about the biology of birds.
2. You can answer the quiz between September 6 and September 17, 2021. After this date, no more answers will be accepted.

PRIZE

Awards determine courtesy of Lynx publishing house.

MECHANICS

1. In order to participate in the contest, all participants must write their email address, name, and surname. Only one entry per person is allowed.
2. The prize will be raffled among the participants who have answered all the questions correctly or, if no one has done so, among the participants who have more correct answers.
3. The draw will be done automatically through the Woobox app.
4. The winner will be announced on the DBF on September 26th.
5. If the winner is not present during the awards ceremony, the DBF will contact him/her to send the award. It will be the responsibility of the winner to maintain the communication channel used in perfect conditions of use and will be solely responsible if the registered email address does not work properly or has suffered a user change or registration error.

CONDITIONS

1. DBF reserves the right to exclude from the promotion, and, therefore, from the awarding of the prize, those participants who, in its understanding, have participated incorrectly.

2. The prize of this contest is not exchangeable for its cash value and will be subject, where appropriate, to the corresponding tax withholdings.
3. They will connect with the winner during the week following the draw, using the email provided in the form.
4. The DBF reserves the possibility of ordering the extraction of new winners and substitutes among the participations not initially awarded and using the same mechanics in case the prize could not be distributed and in order not to be deserted.
5. In case that the personal data of the winners were not valid, or it had not been possible to contact them in time, or if the winners had expressed their clear and unequivocal desire to renounce the prize, it would pass to the first reserve winner; Suffering this first reserve winner from any of the defects indicated above, the prize will be passed to the next reserve winner in order of priority.
6. The prize is not transferable. It must be accepted or rejected by the winner and cannot be transferred. There is no alternative prize or cash refund.
7. Members of the DBF Organizing Committee and members of the ICO, Oryx and Fundaci3n Catalunya-La Pedrera staff can participate in the contest, but their data is not eligible in the draw and, therefore, cannot be awarded.
8. In case of resignation to the prize, it must be done in writing, attaching a photocopy of the DNI.
9. The DBF reserves the right to modify the conditions of the contest at any time, including its possible cancellation before the prescribed period, provided there is just cause for it, committing to communicate the new bases, conditions of the contest or its definitive cancellation.
10. The DBF is not responsible for possible errors in participation caused by a malfunction of the Woobox app or by any other cause, such as interruptions, slowdowns, participations not registered because they are incomplete or for other reasons, unauthorized accesses, or errors in receive any information.
11. Participation in the promotion necessarily implies acceptance of these bases and the interpretive criteria of the DBF regarding the resolution of any question arising from this contest.